Description

This course is geared towards students who seek to achieve an Intermediate 2 level of Spanish, equipping them to provide detailed information on various topics, express themselves fluently, write texts, and use communicative strategies to hold a conversation in different contexts and situations.

This course also incorporates literary texts by Afro-Colombian writers that allow students to expand their lexicon and broaden their communicative skills in a natural context for language use. Students review the past tense structures and some expressions of the subjunctive while reading oral tradition texts from the Afro-Colombian Pacific culture. Students gain phonetic insight by listening to different dialects of Spanish through songs and poems of Afro-descendants from both the Caribbean and Pacific coast.

This course integrates the four skills of the language: listening comprehension, reading comprehension, written expression, and oral expression, in order to develop students' communicative approach through short-stories, songs, and poems and discussing the Afro-Colombian literature.
